Documentary movies (Direction)

1. Ivana (2026) – a documentary against pedophilia. Backcombed red hair, green eyes, heavy but impeccable makeup. Ivana is a 91-year-old woman, a Fellini-esque character. In the shots of her home in Finale Ligure, the red, ruby-studded mouse on her laptop stands out. Ivana's story is one of poverty, sexual violence, and illness. Originally from Parma, her maternal grandfather had found work in Varigotti (a small village in Liguria, Italy) as a street sweeper and gravedigger. In 1933, the young and beautiful Iole fell in love with a Neapolitan sailor. Almost every evening, she walked the path from Varigotti to the military area above Cape Noli. When she became pregnant, the handsome sailor returned to Naples, where he married another young woman who was also three months pregnant. In Varigotti, little Ivana was the daughter of an unmarried girl. When she was seven, her mother married a handsome but alcoholic man, violent towards both his wife and his stepdaughter, whom he abused. For this, he ended up in prison. After a few months of peace, Ivana contracted a polio-like illness. She was in a cast for four years and remained limping. Ivana's story is one of redemption: she found a job, managed to get a mortgage and buy an apartment, got married, and had a daughter to whom she is devoted. Her message is clear: one must not remain silent in the face of violence. At 91, Ivana contacted Farian Sabahi to tell her story. After hearing her testimony, Farian Sabahi decided to take Ivana to the military area where, due to her disability, the protagonist of this documentary had never been able to reach by foot.

2. The Children of Teheran (2018, 33') - <https://vimeo.com/244229425/cf343eafde> - This is a unique event in the history of the Holocaust. They were Polish-Jewish children who were forced to leave Poland and reached the Soviet Union, where they were deported to labour camps and later moved to Uzbekistan (Samarkand, Tashkent, Bukhara). Here they spent time in orphanages and were later transferred to the shores of the Caspian Sea (Turkmenistan and then Iran), Tehran being their final destination. In the Iranian capital they spent the longest period before reaching Palestine. For this very reason, they were called the “Children of Teheran”. The video is part of an installation shown at MAO Museo d'Arte Orientale in Turin (26 January 2018 – 11 February), MUDEC Museo delle Culture Milan (13 February 2018), Letterando Festival Sciacca (15 June 2018).

3. Out of Place (2008, 23') - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=sNCwHFn7ezQ> - The story of an Iranian woman belonging to the Jewish community of Tehran who, during the Iran-Iraq war (1980-88), decided to leave Iran and move to Israel. Many years later, sitting in her home in Petat Tikva, near Tel Aviv, she regrets her choice. She misses the warmth of the Iranian people and expresses a desire to return to Iran, where her brother and sisters still live. Rachel's is the story of an immigrant mother with multiple identities. The story of a woman who suffers a deep loss. She thought she had found her ideal homeland, but it did not live up to her expectations and now, because of her son's death, she almost hates it. Rachel is a strong woman. She suffers and feels responsible for the choice she imposed on her husband and sons. Her spouse is a minor figure, less aggressive but nevertheless he has his own dignity. In this story, the impulsive young woman contrasts with the thoughtful adult. The filmmaker deliberately leaves the difficult relationship between the Islamic Republic and the Jewish State in the background while her story, triggered by the Iranian revolution, develops. Broadcast on TV Channel SkyTg24 and presented in festivals in Turin (Biennale della Democrazia), Rome, Genoa, Verona, Milan, London, Tel Aviv, Messina (SabirFest 9 October 2015, the theme of the festival will be “Fuori luogo”).

4. Che ne facciamo di Teheran? (What shall we do with Teheran?, 2008, 20') realized in Israel and broadcast on 6 August 2008 at 11 pm on the satellite channel RaiNews24 (www.rainews24.it)

5. Minareto mille punti. Un viaggio nell'Islam che c'è già (2007, 64') on the controversial construction of a mosque in Colle Val D'Elsa, Siena, funded by the Foundation Monte dei Paschi. Featuring the journalist Edoardo Camurri, directed by Pietro Raschillà, produced by Stefano Pistolini. Presented in Milano (Spazio Oberdan, 10 September 2007) and on the Italian television Nessuno Tv.
